FOREWORD

'Birtwistle here' was always the opening line when Anthony Birtwistle called Albert Amor on receipt of one of our exhibition catalogues. From the early 1980's he bought in almost every exhibition held in Bury Street, so the collection offered for sale now is a roll call of the last forty years of Amor offering for sale named collections of the finest English porcelain.

In this exhibition you will find pieces from the collection of Sir Seton Wills, Paul B Zeisler Jnr, Stirling-Lee, and also pieces with earlier provenance such as the Rous Lench Collection. Mr Birtwistle particularly liked the named Worcester patterns, and pieces with fine flower painting, especially when combined with coloured grounds. He also formed a small and choice group of blue and white. With just a few exceptions all acquisitions were Worcester, but the superb pairs of Chelsea and Vauxhall vases were just too tempting to resist!

When I would drive to Hampshire to deliver recent purchases, it was always a pleasure to see Mr Birtwistle place new pieces carefully on the shelves amongst the existing collection, although Mrs Birtwistle was perhaps less thrilled to see me, as she felt the collection was large enough...

I am pleased to have these carefully selected pieces back in Bury Street, and know that collectors will realise this is a great opportunity to acquire uncommon pieces largely in superb condition.

Please do contact me if I can tell you more?

Mark Law

London, October 2024

Anthony Birtwistle was born in 1928 to a large Lancashire family. He was educated at Ampleforth College and after the war joined Lloyds as a marine reinsurance broker.

He became a partner at a specialist reinsurance broker Carter Wilkes & Fane until he retired in 1988.

He had a great interest and love for art, music and antiques and started collecting Worcester porcelain in the mid 1980's. He bought all his porcelain through Albert Amor and so we are delighted that Mark Law has curated this collection.

The Birtwistle Family

A pair of Chelsea baluster shaped vases, each with two entwined scroll handles and everted rim, finely painted in coloured enamels by John Donaldson with Watteauesque style figures in landscapes, birds and fruits, all within gilt flower and scroll cartouches, on a blue ground, 6 ½" high, circa 1765, no marks

Provenance; Sir Samuel Scott Collection

Frank Hurlbutt Collection

Sir Henry Tate Collection

Exhibited; Albert Amor, Golden Jubilee Exhibition, 2002, number

2.

A Worcester fluted lozenge shaped dish, brilliantly painted in coloured enamels in the London atelier of James Giles with a peach, a cut pear and redcurrants, the border with two pairs of confronting birds in branches, and two birds in flight, gilt line rim, 10 1/4" wide, circa 1768, no mark

See James Giles, China Painter, A Loan Exhibition, Albert Amor, 1977, number 27, for another dish from this service, lent from the Marshall Collection, Ashmolean Museum, Oxford

3.
A pair of Flight, Barr and Barr Worcester round sauce tureens and covers, each with two gilt eagle mask and ring handles and flame knob, painted with pink roses and leaves, within gilt line borders, on square base, 6 ½" high, circa 1825, impressed marks

4.
A Barr, Flight and Barr Worcester round bowl, cover and stand, with two eagle mask and ring handles and loop knob, finely painted in coloured enamels with named views of 'Forge Bridge, Westmoreland' and 'View near Rathfornham, Co.Durham', within gilt and beaded borders, 4 ¾" high, circa 1807-13, script marks in brown
