A rare pair of Meissen salt cellars

A rare pair of Meissen oval salt cellars, each bowl painted in Japanese Kakiemon palette with flowers and leaves to the interior and exterior, on four scroll shaped supports each headed by a female term, and picked out in puce, black and gilt, 3 1/4" wide, circa 1735, traces of blue crossed swords mark

See Sotheby's London, 14th March 1967, lot 126, for a similar pair of salts
